Exhibition Reflection

Responses can be shared orally or in writing. Conversations or discourse of groups can be recorded and submitted to teachers as well.

1. What has inspired you or brought you joy during this learning process?
2. In what ways might your exhibition evoke change?
3. Share one thing you have learned about yourself or others during this unit.
4. How can we continue to investigate different perspectives to better understand power, inequality, equity, and oppression?
