

---

Peer Feedback and Reflection

Peer Feedback (partner writes here)	Your Reflection
What are two things that the writer of the paragraph above did well?	How can you make this strength happen more often in your writing?
What are two things that the writer of the paragraph needs to work on? Write about something that was unclear or a part that is missing.	What can you do to improve in this area?

OELi Thesis Statement Graphic Organizer

O: Observation	E: Effect on meaning	LI: Larger implication
What technique or element do you observe in the text?	What is the effect on meaning and on your interpretation of the text?	What is the larger implication for the text's theme, our interpretation or our understanding of society?
Smith uses the [literary device]	to demonstrate	Ultimately, Smith reveals that

---

Evidence Brainstorm:

List three possible pieces of evidence:	What does this quotation reveal? How could you use this evidence? What are the key words and phrases?

---

PEAL Paragraph Outline, Option A:

Point: observation, effect on meaning, larger implication (see above!)
Evidence: use proof from the text; this should be a quotation. Cite as follows: (IU Text #)
Analysis: pull keywords, phrases, or moments from the text to prove your OELi. Make sure to connect the evidence to the thesis/point.
Link: why does this matter? Address the larger implication.

---

PEAL Paragraph Outline, Option B:

I. Point:

---

---

---

Observation:

---

---

Effect on Meaning:

---

---

Larger Implication/Theme:

---

---

II. Evidence:

---

---

---

Context:

---

---

---

Quotation:

---

---

III. Analysis

You may use the questions below to start your thinking if you are feeling lost, but you do not have to use them.

---

---

---

Keyword:

---

How does this connect to the effect on meaning?

---

---

How does this connect to the larger implication?

---

---

Keyword:

---

How does this connect to the effect on meaning?

---

---

---

How does this connect to the larger implication?

---

---

---

IV. Link

Connect this back to the larger implication in a significant way.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---